Gathering pace for Speed@Seawork

Speed@Seawork will feature some of the world's most purposeful and rapid craft during the unique Sea Trials day.

Speed@Seawork is an international two-day event for those involved in fast vessels operating at high speed for security interventions and Search and Rescue (SAR). It brings together an exceptional range of demonstration boats and a selection of expert speakers. The event also offers delegates extensive networking opportunities with leaders in this field.

Speed@Seawork is aimed at facilitating growth and development for the design, build and operation of these specialist vessels. As operating demands increase, new solutions for propulsion, navigation, communications and care of the crew will be needed.

Sea Trials day takes place on Monday June 10. Delegates will start the day afloat with a networking welcome breakfast, sponsored by OSI Maritime Systems, and an opening presentation from Alistair Hughes, Team Leader within UK MoD.

Cowes Yacht Haven on the Isle of Wight will provide the base for sea trials. The purpose-built, state-of-the-art venue will also host the conference lunch and presentations throughout the day. The Haven's marina offers quick access for the delegates heading out into the challenging waters of the Solent to trial a range of fast boats, interceptors and RIBs from all over the world. The first day will finish with networking drinks and canapés, sponsored by Ocean Safety.

Day Two, Tuesday 11 June, will see delegates attend the Conference suite at the Seawork exhibition, held at Southampton's Mayflower Park on the water front. The Speed@Seawork half-day conference offers key industry speakers interspersed with valuable networking and the opportunity to visit Seawork exhibitors and vessels.

Speed@Seawork presentations will include High-Speed night-time navigation, UK procurement programmes and the latest on export regulations.

Places are still available for delegates and can be booked by contacting speed@seawork.com

About Speed@Seawork

Speed@Seawork 2019 takes place on Monday 10 and Tuesday 11 June. Mercator Media, the organisers of Europe's largest commercial marine exhibition, Seawork, introduced the inaugural Speed@Seawork in 2018 as the latest sector-specific feature for Seawork.

Fast vessels operating at high speed for security interventions and Search and Rescue (SAR) are a significant specialist sector of the commercial marine business.

Speed@Seawork is aimed at facilitating growth and development for the design, build and operation of these specialist vessels. As operating demands increase, new solutions for propulsion, navigation, communications and care of the crew will be needed.

Speed@Seawork turns the spotlight on the sector, offering knowledge sharing, networking, exhibiting, sponsorship and demonstrating opportunities.
